Arcon/Tri-Con, Inc. has extensive experience working with churches from the conceptual design and architectural design phases, through the construction documents, bidding, and construction.

Our firm provides single source responsibility, early cost determination, guaranteed maximum cost, quality control, and personalized service.

Our staff has proven experience in assisting churches in the programming and masterplanning process as well as through the development of the conceptual plans, elevations, and interiors. We strive to provide the client with various options and to assist the client in developing a project that is consistent with the existing facilities through material selection, style, and site development.

Designing and building for church facilities entails careful coordination among our team and the various board(s) or committee(s) from the church. Our experienced management team know their primary responsibility is to be attuned to your goals, needs, and desires and to respond to them throughout the design and construction phases.
